

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Vending machines are provided having a door and a cabinet having an interior region for storing and distributing objects, such as canned or bottled beverages. Several vending machines locks are provided for locking the door to the cabinet to prevent unauthorized

5 access to the interior region of the cabinet.